I am an avid listener and fan of satellite radio, for many reasons. I love having access to content that is not available elsewhere and without all the mindless commercial drivel to boot. It is so worth the monthly fee! I do not feel that the FCC should be protecting the mediocre commercial media in their fight to prevent satellite radio from broadcasting local traffic and weather or any other content that they can find an audience for. This is precisely what competition is all about. If commercial radio would improve the quality of their programming, they wouldn't need to hide behind NAB and the FCC to protect them from a little competition. I pay for these premium services and it should not be up to the National Association of Broadcasters to dictate what I am permitted to hear. I respectfully urge the FCC to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and to support XM's ability to provide the kind of programming that we all demand and deserve.
